Dr. Miryam Sas

Bernie H. Williams Professor of Comparative Literature and Film & Media
(カリフォルニア大学バークレー校比較文学、フィルム・メディア学部教授)

“From Loss to Discovery to Loss: Modalities of Writing Postwar Catastrophe and the Poetics and Politics of Family Stories”

In this talk Professor Miryam Sas will review central questions in studies of the representation of trauma and war. Then she will discuss her collaborative/archival memoir (written with her grandmother's story) and the challenges of writing and sharing family stories of war and loss. What gets lost and what new discoveries can happen when one delves into family secrets? She will read selections from the memoir and from her experimental poetic collection, "Lost Words."
